A technical drawing of a rectangular frame. The frame is composed of two parallel lines forming the top and bottom edges, and two single lines forming the left and right edges. A diagonal line runs from the top-left corner to the bottom-right corner. There are several small dots: one on the top-left corner, one on the top edge, one on the left edge, one on the right edge, and one on the bottom edge. The drawing is enclosed in a rectangular border.
