A dark gray, textured rectangular object, possibly a book cover or endpaper, with four small circular holes at the corners. The object is oriented diagonally, with its top-left corner towards the upper left and its bottom-right corner towards the lower right. The texture appears slightly grainy or matte. The four circular holes are located at the corners: top-left, top-right, bottom-left, and bottom-right. The top-right corner has a small notch or indentation. The bottom-left corner also has a small notch or indentation. The object is set against a plain white background.
